MORE INFORMATION IS DEMANDED

The people continue to call for more information about imperialism, which eall should not be surprising to those who take a practical view of the real situation created in the United States by its audden appearance as an applied principle in government. The mass of of the people have had no experience in absolute methods of government which have been saddenly thrust upon them through the action of trusts and monopolies. These capitalized booles were in a position where they would have to recede from the work' they are seeking to make complete by imperializing the country, or take an open and bold stand upon monarchial principles for the future government of the United States.

The work of years was included in the position they had prepared for the people, through aid received in the work from the Republican party, which has in an optessoning manner followed the lead of those who were preparing the way to a peaceable revolution if it was possible from a republican form of government to an impertalistic manner of administering government in a country, which would continue parhaps for another generation to take the name of republic, but In which there would not be anything remaining of a republic represented in government.

The Spanish war made an opportunity for a speedy development of monarchial ideas entertained by the more commercial class of citizens. It being believed by these people that the monarchial system is more favorable to expansion of commercial interests than a republican form, which is error. A form of government is not included in commerce, but the manner in which government is administered may have much to with it. The theory of force which was sought to be applied to China is the monarchial ideal, which means a preceding condition of elsyery or servitude to commercial intereste, which interests as society is sought to be developed by means of sub- develop it full fledged imperialism. serviance to organized capital, is the society ideal sought to be developed an apaedily as it is possible to do the United States. #### BURR'S FIGHT AGAINST FATE

Just as Success Returned the Crushing Sorrows of His Life Came,

"Aaron Eurr was 60 years old when he resolved once more to battle with fortune," writes William Perrine in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Going quietly into New York, he opened an office for the practice of law and in a fortnight had carned $2,000 in fees. But hardly had he written to his daughter about his luck when there came from South Carolina the news that her beautiful boy, who had been the idel of the ambitious statesman,

The Patriot sailed from Charleston out into the ocean in Christmas week, and not a vestige of her was ever again seen, and it is surmised - but nothing is known as to her fate-that she foundered off the coast of Hatteras. "Day after day and long after all hope had been abandoned there might the lonely and unhappy father, peering far down the bay as if he were scan ning the sea for a sail. Of his agony Aaron Burr gave the world but little view. He had schooled himself in the habit of never exhibiting his emotions, but in one of his letters he declared that he felt as if he had been severed from the human race."

VIOLIN MUSIC.

Its Peculiar and Varied Effect on Wild Animals,

The violin was used recently with interesting results in experiments with all sorts of living creatures. First it was played before a tarantula. She paid no attention whatever to it. But a nest of scorpious became intensely excited and wiggled frantically.

A cobra showed remarkable susceptibility. She was sleeping soundly when the experimenters approached her, but the first tone awakened her, and she raised her head. As the music swelled she continued to rise till she was standing straight as a pillar, supported only by her tail. Every body, swift waltz music caused her to erect her ugly hood to its fullest size, and a sudden dissonance made her wind and twist her body as if she were in real agony.

The polar bear tried to dance to the sounds of the instrument. At least he swayed his body rhythmically and made a rumbling sound which portrayed deep measure. The grizzlies and the lions moved their paws and the lions their tails also in time with the music. It happened that a string snapped, with its peculiar, sharp smack, jest as the player had begun to perform before the cage of a hyens. That crouched, trembling, in the farthest corner of the cage. The elephant and the estrich were delighted by soft tones and appeared to suffer true distress

ORE OF

If Mine Owners Get a Move on the Smelter Will Be Supplied.

The new smalter is rapidly approaching completion. Mr. Cooley is confident that the copper matte will begin to flow about the first of next month, notwithstanding several unforseen delays which recently occurred.

It is beginning to look as though the supply of ore would be amply sufficlent.

The owners of the Go Down and other mines on the north end of Granite bill have some big ore dumps ready for shipment and plenty of ore in the faces of the drifts.

There is an unlimited quantity of low grade rock in the Nevada Exploration and Development Company's properties. At first the owners expect to sort for shipment, but will later install a concentrator.

Steady shipments will be made from the Dogskin mountain mines. The owners will put on ore teams as soon as the smelter bins are ready.

S. Emrich says he will get in ten tone before the smelter starts, and may become a steady shipper from his Plumas property.

The owners of the Brooklyn are thinking of making a land shipment, Holesworth and Redman will have their copper ore worked here instead of shipping to Selby and Golconds.

The Peavine Jumper will be put in hape to make shipments.

Yesterday a letter was received from Hawthorne relative to shipping a carload of ore daily from that vicinity.

M. J. Heller, Captain DeLamar's ex pert, was in Reno yesterday looking at mining property.

Nine location notices were placed on record in one day last week. Rarely a day passes but some prospector drops into the Recorder's office with proof that he owns an embryo mine.

Dr. Redman is still finding mines Yesterday he showed the Journal scribe a chunk of hard barren-looking quartzite carrying sure enough free gold and what looks like horn silver. He made the discovery a few days ago thirty pieces of fine float were found, winze from the tunnel on ore in which which led to the discovery of rock in place.
